Peace River Regional District: Reflecting on 2024 and looking ahead to 2025

Chair Leonard Hiebert recently shared his thoughts on the Peace River Regional District’s journey through 2024, highlighting key challenges, achievements and priorities. He also outlined the district’s vision for 2025.

Community Engagement and Leadership

The Community to Community (C2C) sessions emerged as a significant focus, fostering stronger relationships between local governments and First Nation communities. These sessions proved instrumental in addressing shared concerns and developing collaborative solutions.

2024 saw changes in leadership at the Regional Board, with the election of Leonard Hiebert as Chair and Darcy Dober as Vice-Chair. Former Director of Area B, Jordan Kealy, transitioned to a new role as MLA for Peace River North.

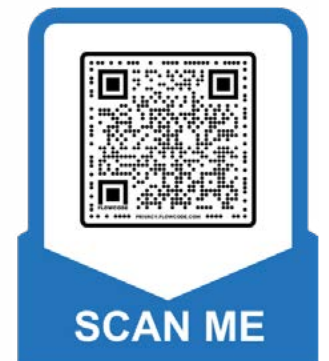

Enhanced Communication and Accessibility

Chair Hiebert emphasized the importance of maintaining an open door policy, ensuring transparent and open communication with residents. The PRRD is committed to making information more accessible to the public, recognizing the evolving needs of the community.

Key initiatives include:

- Introducing quarterly video updates from the Chair published through the PRRD’s channels and local networks
- Improving digital platforms through a new website for easier access to regional information and engagement initiatives
- Bridging the gap between the public and the Regional District by encouraging an open door policy
- Hosting regular town halls and community meetings
- Continuing to utilize diverse communication channels to reach all residents
- Advance emergency management initiatives
